

ADULTS ONLY TUPPERWARE FOR A GOOD CAUSE

Love the colour. Love the function. Love the kitsch appeal. What's not to love about Tupperware?

You may think Tupperware is just a way to transform your cupboards, revolutionise storage and solve lunch, picnic and entertainment dilemmas. You may think that Tupperware is just an everyday product famous for its design, durability, environmental friendliness and life-time guarantee. You may think that Tupperware parties are for desperate housewives. But you've never been to a Tupperware party like this before.

The Vital Tupperware Party will challenge your preconceptions and is being held on Saturday, December 5th at 2pm at The Supper Room @ Waterside, 11 Nile St, Port Adelaide.

You will be astounded by the fanplastic demonstrations of Tupperino.

You will be serenaded by the Tupperware loving, muumuu wearing, R rated ukulele lady, Granny Flaps.

You will be treated to champagne cocktails, nibbles, cheesy music and giveaways.

You will feel warm and fuzzy knowing that you are helping raise funds for Vitalstatistix Theatre Company.

You will NOT be pressured into buying anything.

Tupperino (aka Rino Del Zoppo), says "If you have been searching for a way to keep your cucumbers stiffer for longer and your mangoes from sagging, then this is the fundraising event for you!"

The Vital Tupperware Party promises to be an afternoon full of naughty giggles, outrageous fun, entertainment and, well, Tupperware. Tupperware is a timeless phenomenon that's making a huge comeback, along with everything else retro and representative of 1950's kitsch. Those who don't think they are a 'Tupperware person' are cautioned not to make assumptions until they have been to a Tupperino demonstration.
